REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

Response to Amendment

The After-Final Amendment filed September 19, 2005 has been received and made of record. In response to the Final Office Action, claims 1-20 have been cancelled and claims 21-23 have been added.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 21-23 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 21 and 22, the prior art is not found to teach or fairly suggest, in combination with the existing elements of the present claim as currently presented, disconnecting said bad pixel from, and connecting one or more nearest neighbor pixels to, the array, through use of fusible link technology or anti-fuse technology, respectively.

Regarding claim 23, the prior art is not found to teach or fairly suggest, in combination with the existing elements of the present claim as currently presented, performing said testing prior to dicing into chips, thereby enabling the steps of disconnecting said bad pixel from, and connecting one or more nearest neighbor pixels to, the array to be accomplished by means of chip-level wiring.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Dunton (US 6,526,366) discloses the marking of defective pixels by means of fusible link technology, as well as teaching interpolation of nearest neighboring pixel data. Dunton, however, does not disclose connection of nearest neighboring pixels via fusible link technology to serve as a replacement for the bad pixel.

Riedel (US 2001/0052939 A1) discloses bridging pixels via fusible links to permanently activate or deactivate.

Seyyedy et al. (US 6,252,293) discloses fusible link and anti-fuse technology.
